BETTER DAYS POISON. PLAGUE MARK. MANY CRIMES

REFORMS PROPOSED BY THE COMMISSION

FOR SAMOANS.

Mataafa's Men Tanu Resigns
Are Tired of the Kingship
Fighting. Gracefully

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
APIA, Samoa, June 29, via San Francisco, June 30.—Peace and quiet now reign in Samoa, in marked contrast to the warlike scenes of two months ago. The arrival of the auxiliary cruiser, Albatross, on May 13th with the international commission caused a marked change in affairs here.

The commission has no time but to work immediately, electing Mr. Tappin chairman and Mr. Morgan secretary.

RIVAL CHIEFS SUBMISSIVE.

The commissioners held interviews, first with King Tanu, and then with Mataafa. Tanu was not at first recognized as King by the commission. Tanu and his chiefs readily agreed to give up their arms and stated that they were prepared to accept any form of government the commission might recommend, even if the kingship was abolished.

MATAAFA SICK OF FIGHTING.

The following day Mataafa and his party came alongside the Albatross, singing songs and flying the Samoan flag. The rebels were ordered to take down the flag, which they did. The commissioners explained to the chiefs that they had come to make peace, and Mataafa said that he was tired of fighting, as were his chiefs. He said his party would recognize any government imposed by the commissioners, but he preferred to have a King of Samoa, as it was an old-established institution. Mataafa readily agreed to give up the guns held by his party, but insisted that his weapons were the private property of the natives, and should be returned to them. The commissioners issued a proclamation stating that the guns would be returned or proper payment made for them after all troubles had been settled. This, of course, means that payment will be made, as it would be folly to return the weapons. Mataafa's party asked if they could be represented by attorneys before the commission, but their request was declined.

TANU RESIGNS HIS KINGSHIP.

After the Mataafa men had turned in their arms and the Tanu supporters 2,000 more, Tanu was invited on board the Albatross. There he was informed that the commission supported his decision of Chief Justice Chambers, and that Tanu had been King of Samoa ever since the decision had been rendered. Tanu said that he was willing to do anything for the good of Samoa, and at the request of the commissioners resigned his kingship to them.

COMMISSIONER'S DRASTIC REFORMS.

The abolition of the kingship was not an easy matter. The abolition of the office of President, King, a municipality, is to be governed by its Council, and a Mayor. Tanu will relieve the municipality of an official drawing a salary of $5,000 a year, and who in the past has only been a source of friction in Apia. The judicial and diplomatic functions of the Councils will be greatly restricted, and the commissioners recognize the fact that the Supreme Court and one law is sufficient for the needs of Samoa.

THE NEW GOVERNMENT.

Revenue will be raised by indirect taxation, by means of increased customs duty, and the poll tax will be abolished. The license and tax rates of Apia will remain as formerly under the treaty. The Supreme Court will remain as under the treaty. An administrator or Governor will be appointed, who will not be a subject of any of the treaty powers. He is to be assisted by a Legislative Council of three, one appointed by each of the three powers. This Council will legislate for the Samoans, and will be aided by a small body of representative natives. The Governor will have the power of veto over all proposed laws. Chief Justice Chambers wished to resign his position and return to the United States, but at the request of the Commissioners has decided to remain.

AS TO DAMAGE CLAIMS.

Many claims have been lodged at the Consulate for damage to property during the past few months. While not empowered to take any action on these claims, the Commissioners agreed that real hardship has been suffered, and it is understood that the Commission will recommend that the three powers each pay the losses caused to its own subjects.

On the evening of the Queen's birthday British representatives announced that never under any circumstances would Great Britain recognize Mataafa's claim to the kingship.

GERMAN CONSUL CAUSED THE OUTBREAK.

It is stated that Baron Stenbock, the German Commissioner, is fully convinced that Consul Rose acted wrongly and is responsible for the late outbreak. Consul Rose and Maxse are passengers on the steamer Mariposa for San Francisco.

Some of the rebels, dissatisfied with the proclamation providing for a provisional government, have declined to give up their arms. Mataafa disclaims any responsibility for this action, and says it is without his consent.

SETTLEMENT NOT PROBABLE.

The Boundary Dispute in Worse Can Than Ever.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The negotiations in London looking to the arrangement of a modus vivendi fixing the Alaska boundary have again nearly reached a crisis. The several conferences that have taken place recently between Lord Salisbury and Ambassador Choate have been signally disappointing in results. At moments it appeared that a basis of understanding had been reached, but it was not reached, the details could be easily arranged, but it now turns out that these very details cannot be agreed upon with the sacrifice of the interests of many American miners, mainly those who were driven out of the Atha district by the severe and discriminating laws enacted by the Legislature of British Columbia, and this the State Department is determined not to sanction.

The United States Ambassador has come to the end of the concessions he is authorized to offer, and therefore the prospect of a successful outcome of the negotiations is rather depressing.

International Cricket.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

LONDON, June 30.—The All-England eleven in the international test cricket match with the Australians which began yesterday were all out in their first innings for 22 runs. The Australians were all out yesterday in their first innings for 122 runs.

Woman Kills Her In-Pig Will Be Inoculated by the Health Officer.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
LONDON, June 30.—At the Hertford court today Mary Ann Ansell was found guilty of murdering her sister, an inmate of an asylum for the insane, by sending her poisoned cake by post. She was sentenced to death.

The condemned woman has previously insured her sister's life, giving a false description.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—There is a clash between the Federal authorities and the Board of Health over the Nippon Maru. The Federal authorities have received instructions from Washington to release the vessel from quarantine, but the Board of Health has gone into the matter more deeply, and has stationed a squad of policemen around the steamer to prevent any one from leaving the suspected vessel.

TRY THE PIG.

Dr. Barbat, the bacteriological expert, has propagated the bacilli found on the bodies of the two Japanese who tried to escape from the Maru, and is convinced that the bacilli is that of the bubonic plague, but will give further into his examination and will inoculate a pig or some other animal with the germs to finally determine the question.

In the meantime the steamship company will apply for an injunction forbidding the cargo of the vessel to be removed.

The cargo has been thoroughly fumigated throughout. It is probable that the Maru will be again ordered into the stream on the strength of Dr. Barbat's second analysis of the bacilli.

The passengers who arrived on the Nippon Maru are still detained at the Angel Island quarantine station.

LONDON, June 30.—The Star says today: The Tod Sloan assault case has been finally settled by the payment of $1,000 to the waiter.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

LOS ANGELES, June 30.—H. P. Taylor, trustee of the International Paper Company, has arrived here from New York on his way to San Francisco. The company has been organized to establish automobile companies in the larger cities. He will visit all the cities as far north as Portland.

Mr. Taylor said today that the company is to be formed in the Coast so be known as the California Auto-Truck Company. Large plants will be put in at Portland, Sacramento and Los Angeles, and smaller ones at Sacramento, Stockton, San Jose and other cities north of San Francisco. The California company will be capitalized at $5,000,000.

COURTIER, June 30.—It was officially announced here today that the Duke of Connaught, brother of the reigning Duke of Sax-Coburg and Gotha, son of the Duke of Connaught and Prince Arthur, have renounced their claims to the Coburg succession in favor of the Duke of Albany, son of the Duke of Albany, who is in London and whose mother was Princess Alice of Waldeck, will be heir to the throne of Coburg under the guardianship of Prince Leopold of Saxe-Coburg.

The Duke of Connaught reserves the right to the succession in the event of the death of the Duke of Albany or the extinction of the latter's male line. The Duke of Albany will immediately come to Coburg and receive a German army, previous to entering a German army.

CHICAGO, June 30.—All the annual scales of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Tin, Steel and Plate Workers of the United States expire at midnight tonight, and if operations during the new scheduled wages prepared by the Amalgamated convention at Detroit must be accepted before the end of the month, it is certain that not all of the mills will be concerned in a strike of operations.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

CHICAGO, June 30.—When the hearing in the Becker wife murder trial was resumed today before Judge Stein, Attorney Hornstein, for the defense, made a formal motion that his client be discharged. He alleged that Becker for the murder of his wife, and that Mrs. Elizabeth Becker was in jeopardy of life and limb. Mrs. Thelma Becker were on the stand today and the motion was overruled. He at once overruled it, and announced that the hearing would be resumed at the outset six of the original jurors were excused.

FRIDAY, JUNE 30, 1899.
The officers at Brussels appear to be unable to suppress the riots that have occurred there over the new suffrage bill. In view of their location, they are evidently some of those "carnegie" knights we hear so much about.

Commencing Sunday next, the last ferry from San Francisco to Oakland will leave at 12:25 instead of at 12:15 as heretofore. The man who is in the habit of springing for the last boat and lugging the hundred yards leading to the ticket gate in ten seconds can be relied upon to keep up the same old system, however.

Not much head need be given to the paragraph that is going the rounds to the effect that General Otis is likely to be supplanted in the Philippines, because of incapacity. Such a charge is ridiculous, in view of the results he has achieved—a continuous chain of victories without one defeat. It is not his fault that the rebels run too fast for him to catch up with them. Our troops are fighters, not sprinters.

Still another "marvelously rich dig" has proved a fake, the prospectors who journeyed to Ketchikan being en route home, penniless and despairing. They say that there is not even the color of gold there, the only thing in that line they have seen being what they took with them. The lesson is being more and more frequently taught each day that the best place for a prospector is right here in California.

The request forwarded to Washington that on account of the large percentage of recruits rejected because of physical disability a more lenient examination be allowed, should not be granted. Practically all the men being taken into the service now are destined for Manila, and only the most robust constitutions can stand the strain there. It is no good recruiting men simply to place them in hospitals, and the grifter the rest, the better will be the results all around.

The residents of the north end of town are showing good sense in asking that a general system of sewerage for that section be mapped out before any new work is commenced on the various streets. A thorough cross-town drainage system should be planned for North Oakland and the recently annexed territory, for it is a part of the town that in the near future is going to build up rapidly, and everything in connection with it should be figured on a prospective basis, and not merely to meet the present needs.

SOMETHING ABOUT TRAMPS.
An article on tramps by Josiah Flint in the June number of the Country has given rise to considerable discussion throughout the country upon that phase of our social system, and has, of course, brought about a wide variety of suggestions as to the best way to combat the evil. Mr. Flint estimates that every night 10,000 tramps are leaving their way on trains and 10,000 more are waiting at watering tanks and stations for chances to get on cars. He figures the total number of professional tramps in the country at 60,000, a third of whom are constantly on the move.

Although every civilized nation is cursed with these incubi on the social system, in no part of the world has the tramp succeeded in establishing himself on a firmer basis than in the United States. The American people, as a whole, are hospitable, and he need never fear starvation; in the summer months the wanderer can sleep out of doors in the Eastern States, while in the winter he migrates to California, Florida or some other warm climate, and as far as clothes are concerned, he can either do an odd job now and then and earn enough money with which to purchase them, or else, by means of a plausible story, he can beg enough cast-off garments by calling at residences when the male and not easily guided members of the family are down town at work.

Immunity from arrest is obtained because in nine cases out of ten the official of a town would sooner run a tramp than take him to the lock-up and out the tax payers to the expense of guarding him for a certain number of days. Then again anti-tramp legislation is so lax that it is of little use.

GOLDED GATE AFTER ENGINE.
Lot Is Secured on Which to Build a Fire House.

A meeting of the Golden Gate Improvement Club was held last evening. A communication was received from Street Superintendent Miller announcing that the new names of Eleventh and Twelfth streets are embodied in an ordinance submitted to the Council but that the name of Tenth street could not be changed as the street is outside the city limits.

Henry Burns of the Fire and Water Committee stated that the request of the Club in regard to a fire engine and hydrants would be granted.

William O'Neill offered the use of a lot for the engine house.

It was decided to rent the Dewey Club room, opposite the station for $1 per month, as a meeting place.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. O'Neill for his offer, and it was decided to notify the Board of Public Works that a lot had been secured.

There was some talk as regards additional street lights and it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the people residing in the vicinity where the lights are needed.

Messrs. Willis and Rourke were appointed a committee to investigate the complaints regarding the old car ties on San Pablo avenue.

INSULT TO INJURY.
Cholly—I was walking down the avenue, deck boy, when the heat a woman allowed her beauty flower pot to fall on my head.

Reggy—How painful.

Cholly—It wasn't the pain, dear boy; it was what the dowdial woman said.

Reggy—What did she say?

Cholly—She said with that her flower pot landed on a safe place and didn't break.

ACCUSTOMED TO IT.
"The minister," observed the church member, as if the idea had just occurred to him, "can take a vacation, but Satan never takes a vacation."

"True," said the other church member, "but I don't think a great deal better than the minister."—Puck.

HONOR TO SOCIETY
WHAT HAS OAKLAND SOCIETY DONE FOR CHARITY?
MRS. C. O. ALEXANDER.

Mrs. C. O. Alexander of 140 East Sixteenth street is a prominent member of Oakland's social set. She has always been known as a very liberal and charitable woman by her friends and neighbors. She is not a member of any of the charitable organizations for institutions, preferring to do her good work among those of her neighbors who may be in need of assistance.

WOMEN WHO WORK
MRS. J. CONNER, TEACHER.

Mrs. Jeannette Conner is employed at Aydelotte's Business College as a teacher of shorthand. She has held the position for a number of years, and has always given entire satisfaction. Mrs. Conner has a thorough knowledge of shorthand in all its branches, and has made a special study of the best means of imparting her knowledge to others. Her success in her class is attested by the number of pupils which yearly graduate from her class, and who are able to take positions at once. Mrs. Conner has a great amount of patience in working with pupils, and never tires of the instruction of those who are unable to learn. Under her tuition hard adversity is always attained. She is also very popular with those who take her course.

STREET CAR MEN.
WILLIAM NYE, PIEDMONT LINE.

William Nye, known among his associates on the Piedmont and Mountain View Railway as "Bill" Nye, is one of the old-time motormen of the company. Before the trolley superseded the cable, Nye handled a grip and mounted the Heights of Piedmont and rounded the gravity loop with the air of a man who is at home. He is a capital man in his business, and stands well with those who are professionally on his plane and know him. He is well advanced toward 50 years of age, the head of a family and is now in the enjoyment of an appreciated vacation.

FOR POLICEMEN.
W. A. MOORE, COURT OFFICER.

Policeman W. A. Moore is now filling the position of court officer in the police court of this city, a position which has its sorrows as well as its joys. He says the joys may be between 5 and 7 o'clock in the evening, he acts as judge, serving subpoenas and warrants and getting jurors for Police Court cases are some of the duties of the court officer. For performing some of them, especially that of corralling business men as jurors in the Police Court, the incumbent becomes the object of slight indignities and rebuffs. Mr. Moore has been about ten years on his plane and became an officer under the new charter and after a short experience resigned his position. He was away from the city for several months and when he returned he was warmly welcomed to the force. His other recently deceased, was also a member of the force for a time. Mr. Moore is 25 years of age and unmarried.

RAILROAD COMPANY TO ESTABLISH HOSPITAL AT WEST OAKLAND.

A few feet from the Peninsula street freight office workmen of the Southern Pacific Company are laying the foundation of a building which means much to the employees of that company.

This building is to be used as an emergency hospital. It will be only eighteen by twenty feet but the appliances and fittings will be such as to make it possible to alleviate to some extent the sufferings of those who are so unfortunate as to be injured in the yards or shops of this master corporation.

A steward will be in attendance both day and night to give the first aid to those who are to go to the general hospital for treatment. He will also be sufficiently well schooled in surgery to be able to dress small wounds in such a manner that the services of a physician will not be required.

With such facilities, in case of a serious accident, it will be possible to stop the flow of blood and sometimes thereby save a life, while waiting for the ambulance to convey the injured to the hospital.

THE ROUNDER.

I met a friend on Broadway this afternoon, and he requested me to print the following from the Los Angeles Times:

"A millionaire, aged 73 years, married a girl aged 17 years in Oakland, and all the common cry of gossip and scandal-mongers are charging the circumstantial atmosphere with such exclamations as: 'Goodness, goodness!' 'Did you ever in all your born days?' and more of similar import. The girl's mother and the law consented to this step, and so did the girl. Where is the wrong? If this elderly man had outraged all moral law by omitting marriage ceremony, the prurient consciences of the aforesaid common cry would have remained inert."

"Souso my lee scurpers," said Commodore Curstense as he sailed his ship up to the Grove street wharf this morning, "but I hear that the Christian Endeavorers gave Mayor Snow some hard nuts to crack last evening. I hear the Mayor has told the C. E.'s how to be good citizens. Don't forget to read his advice."

When you see Bill Friend just ask him to show you the 108 photographs of himself. He always carries them with him.

"Yesterday," said Senor Muchacho-Viejo, "I went over to Alameda for a swim in the breakers. I found over a hundred people at one resort near Second avenue. Some were sunbathing under a canopy, others were leaning in sunshine or in shade on the sunbathers, and others were standing at the shore or on the wooden pier, surveying the bathers. Children were romping, wading or splashing, and all together it was a cheerful scene. On the beach I saw Fred A. Campbell and Fred M. Campbell, prominent members of the families. Both Campbells appeared to be in good health and spirits. And the Pacific ocean so hospitable to the bathers, I recognized on a raft, from whence they dove and sprang, was Miss Blise McKim, wife of Alameda, a sample of the class. She is 18, weighs 180 pounds, is 5'7 1/2 in height, very shapely and accomplished, fine colored and comely in every respect. 'I can fence,' she said to me, 'and I have boxed with Jeffries.'"

"Yesterday," said Signor Chuchachienore, "I met Conductor F. W. Toye, who has been an official of our local train service for fourteen years. For nine years he has been on the Oakland-Alameda mule run. 'On Monday,' said he to me, 'we go up to Shasta today. We will remain away a month. How would you like to be a caboose?'"

"Patrolman John Mackey of the Oakland force is 55 years old," said Herr Ste-Machen-Mich-Jachsen, "and he has been a guardian of the peace for sixteen years. Yesterday is the first time I have been in his company for nearly ten years, and in fact I probably haven't seen him since '89. No, he has been on outside bench. Well, John sat beside me on the street car, and we chatted. He is one of those rare things, you know, who never have an ill word to say of another, no matter what the provocation. No, I'm not a Stockton born, said he, my parents were of 'Auld Ireland,' but I first breathed air and was raised in the north of Ireland."

"In September I will be 67 years old," said John Cushing, addressing Senator Muchacho-Viejo, and meanwhile puffing fragrant clouds of smoke from his half-gig cigar. He was one of a group comprising E. A. Sherman and Fred A. Campbell, who he stood leaning negligently against the jamb of a store doorway opposite the Central Bank. "March 27, 1841, I, a boy of 11, left Council Bluffs, Iowa, to cross the plains. This warm evening reminds me of the good swimmers I had on that eventful journey in the South Platte, the Sweetwater and other streams. On the way over the Rocky mountains I broke a leg and lay for thirty days under a tree while it was mending. Indians? Why, here is a good reason why I never took a gun, you know. I've only been a resident of Oakland since 1870. I came here from Shasta then." And the father of Henry D. Cushing, one of this city's most popular merchants, took another whiff of his cigar as he reflected over those hazy-earliest times of '49.

THE ROUNDER.

WHAT I THINK OF THE MAN WHO COMMITS SUICIDE.
By HENRY A. NEWBERRY of the TRIBUNE STAFF.

What do I think of a man that commits suicide?
Except in the cases, which I believe to be comparatively few, where the suicide is a coward who takes his life as the easiest way out of troubles which he leaves as a legacy for a frail wife and helpless children to stagger under, I fall to see anything reprehensible in the act. On the contrary, it seems to me in the great majority of cases, to be a distinctly commendable one.

The suicide is commonly a public benefactor. He takes from the world a life that either through crushing misfortunes or inherent folly and viciousness is a failure and an intolerable burden. In either case his removal is a relief to the community, and a distinct service to society.

The man who, rather than drag out his life a curse to himself and an eyesore to every one else, refuses, like the noble Brutus, to be dragged at the chariot wheels of relentless fate, merits admiration and pity, not the obloquy and contempt that is almost invariably heaped upon him by the moralizing asses of the press and the sleek and heartless pulpit Chadsbands.

The trouble is that there are not enough suicides. The suicidal impulse ought to assail the hideous witch who, "With his ghastly vision written by the awful hand of God," crawls legless and eyeless along the sidewalks of every city, whining for his dose of charity. There are plenty of others that I could name, but there is not space in the limits of this article in which to do it. There is no likelihood, however, of these people ever committing suicide. As Thackeray would say, they haven't the courage to despair. They would grunt and sweat under a weary life to the last syllable of recorded time, provided some one else furnished the means wherewith to eke out their miserable existence.

BUTCHERS AND GROCERS MAY BE COMPLIMENTED.

Good measure for Fourth of July! The butchers and the grocers of Oakland have decided to close their shops on Monday so as to give their employees an extra holiday.

Our big dinners will not have to be slaughtered to make this extra Oakland holiday. Good and people may be compelled to buy a day, or so earlier, but they will get it gladly.

What's the matter with these employing butchers and grocers? They're all right.

They have done well by their hands, a good thing for themselves and have set an example that might well be imitated by a lot of other employers.

The grocery boys and butcher boys and the other workers in these establishments are a hard working, worthy set. They are up early every working day in the year. Their service, both to their employers and to the customers, is a faithful and an arduous one. So they have well earned this recognition of their fidelity which the bosses by this action have accorded.

Then these proprietors have served themselves well by this place of practical generosity. It will put snap and still better service in their men and boys and the young ladies at the cash desks who keep the accounts. These will have something pleasant to remember for many a long day and they will go about their work from this time on with kindler feelings toward their employers and the world.

For these very reasons, the example is a good one. Well, it is good for one kind of work and kind of workers is good for another, for any other. Occasional holidays hurt nobody, and they lessen nobody's trade in the long run.

Let the ball of good fellowship roll on!

HIS IDEAL LUXURY.

A story is told of an old Arizona prospector who, after thirty years of bad luck, hardship and privation, finally "struck it rich" a few weeks ago in the vicinity of Flagstaff, and sold a half interest in his "prospector hold" for $12,000 cash. When the money was paid over to him at the bank the cashier, who had known him for a long time, remarked casually: "Well, Bill, what are you going to do to make yourself comfortable and enjoy life, now you've got plenty of money?"

Bill thought a minute in silence, and then, as a pleased expression brightened up his rugged face, he answered: "I reckon I won't do nothing but canned stuff hereafter."

He had his idea of luxury. He had lived so long on salt pork and heavy bread, corned beef and tomatoes, and salmon represented to him the highest luxuries that life could afford.

The Triumph of a Mother-in-Law.

Score another triumph for the mother-in-law. The servile insurrection against his reign that broke out in Alameda county a few days ago seems to have been an inglorious fizzle. Yesterday the aged millionaire, Joseph Boardman, who married 17-year-old Blanche Walker recently, rashly defied his mother-in-law's wrath who, "With his ghastly vision written by the awful hand of God," crawls legless and eyeless along the sidewalks of every city, whining for his dose of charity. There are plenty of others that I could name, but there is not space in the limits of this article in which to do it. There is no likelihood, however, of these people ever committing suicide. As Thackeray would say, they haven't the courage to despair. They would grunt and sweat under a weary life to the last syllable of recorded time, provided some one else furnished the means wherewith to eke out their miserable existence.

For eighteen years the old Boardman has been the master of the house. Weeds, flowers, shrubs and trees have been left to run riot until they have blended into one inextinguishable mass. The house itself, dingy and weather beaten, seemed to look appealingly to the passer-by for the charity of a coat of paint to cover its nakedness. All this has been for the benefit of Mr. Boardman, who guarded his home with the vigilance of a watch dog.

After his marriage to Blanche Walker he took up his home with the bride's mother for a few days. That lady, however, had no intention of allowing him to remain in her house indefinitely, so yesterday morning, without saying a word to Mr. Boardman, she ordered a gang of men to proceed to the Boardman place and renovate the premises from the front gate to the back fence. They fell to with a will, grubbing out the jungle, carting off refuse and doing their best to evoke some kind of order out of the chaos that had reigned unmoistened all these years. When Mr. Boardman returned from business last evening he took his homeward course past his house, and was dazed and horrified by what he saw. With a yell of rage, he demanded of the vandals what they were doing on his premises. One of them stopped long enough to explain that they were sent there by Mrs. Walker, and then the whole crowd fled in dismay. Flushed with this easy victory, Mr. Boardman proceeded to his mother-in-law's domicile to have it out with her.

What happened in that interview will never be known. Mr. Boardman's lips are sealed, and his mother-in-law wears a sinister smile that offers scant encouragement to inquisitive neighbors. But that the millionaire's noble rage was effectively repressed may be inferred from the fact that a fresh force of men is now at work on the Boardman residence.

WEST OAKLAND,NO LIQUOR AT WHARF
REBUILDING THE PIER
EMERGENCY HOSPITAL
IN SHOP AND ON TRAIN

Work has been begun on a building near the Peralta street freight office, which, when completed will be used as an emergency hospital. Heretofore when a man was seriously injured in the yards or shops the delay in getting him to a place where his injuries could receive proper attention, often resulted seriously. A steward will be in attendance night and day. He will be provided with the necessary articles to dress small wounds, such as cut or jammed fingers, etc. He will also be provided so that any serious injury can receive such attention as will give relief until the patient arrives at the hospital. When accidents occur after the last boat has gone to San Francisco the injured one will be kept at this emergency hospital and the local physician called.

NEW TIME CARD.
A new time schedule will go into effect tomorrow which will provide for several new freight trains. These will be principally to take care of the fruit shipments. The freight business is increasing very rapidly. Four extra freight trains were run out of the West Oakland yards yesterday.

AT LONG WHARF.
Preparations are being made to begin work soon after July 1st in rebuilding Pier B. The shape of this part of the wharf will be changed considerably, another track will be put in and the pier entirely remodeled. This work will entail an expenditure of over $40,000 and will add much to the shipping facilities of the wharf.

NO MORE LIQUOR.
Following up the plan adopted some time ago whereby the sale of liquor was discontinued, the company has issued an order prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors on Long Wharf after July 1st. This order has been conducted a salmon on the wharf for a great many years. The result will be the sailors cannot drink as much as they used to. They will have to go to the city to get their liquor.

SHIPPING NOTES.
The collier San Mateo finished discharging coal Wednesday and is now on the dry dock in San Francisco.

THE EXCITEMENT NOT OVER
The rush at the drug store still continues and daily scores of people call for a bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption. Kemp's Balsam, the standard family remedy, is sold on a guarantee and never fails to give entire satisfaction. Price 25c and 50c.

The company's collier Washenow arrived Thursday from Tacoma with a cargo of Sound coal.
The ship Springfield is discharging 4,000 tons of Australian coal at berth 1K.
The ship Lauenburg finished discharging a cargo of coke and cement and left the dock Thursday after having been in the yard for several days.
The steamer Oregon finished discharging a cargo of lumber Wednesday.

IN THE SHOPS.
Tomorrow all the departments will return to the ten hour schedule. This is welcome news to most of the employees as it will make considerable difference in their incomes. It is announced also that there will be no increase in the force.
Motor No. 22, which is to be used on the East Berkeley line, has been overhauled and will be ready for business Monday. The tires were removed and water hoses substituted, the whole thing was adjusted and the whole topped off with a new coat of paint and varnish.
Engine No. 102 was out on her trial trip today after having been thoroughly overhauled.
Switch engine No. 103 was taken into the shop today to have the derrick and water hose substituted, the whole thing was adjusted and the whole topped off with a new coat of paint and varnish.
